ADULT RESOURCE DIRECTORY: 2017-2018 COMMUNITY & CONFINEMENT ACCRSS GUIDE

"I am what time, circumstances, history, have made of me, certainly, but I am also much more than that, so are we all."

– JAMES BALDWIN

We dedicate this Directory to John Bess, our Public Defender Service, Office of Rehabilitation and Development Resource Coordinator. For nearly twenty years John has educated us on resources throughout the D.C. metropolitan area by advancing this Directory of Adult Services: Community and Confinement Access Guide yearly. Half of those years John also updated the Directory of Youth and Family Services: Community and Confinement Access Guide.

As this Directory goes to print, John is retiring. He has served the D.C. community by giving back every day - by guiding those fortunate to meet him. John has helped others in a sundry of ways - find housing and employment, secure health services, child care, and elder services, being a comforting, knowledgeable voice, and so much more. Throughout his tenure here and other careers, John's resourcefulness and life-long D.C. connections have positively impacted thousands of lives. We at PDS are thankful for his ingenuity, passion, and commitment to justice. We miss you already John.

The 2017-2018 Directory of Adult Services: Community and Confinement Access Guide is both updated and advanced from the last. The chapter on Differing Abilities (aka Disabilities) has been expanded to include services for older clients - given the increase of older clients in the criminal system. This directory lists hundreds of vital resources, most of which are free to low-income individuals and families. Adult Resource Directory: 2017 Community & Confinement Access Guide¹. You will become familiarize with the "How To's" of helping a client access behavioral health services, substance abuse, housing, and medical services, and much more. It will also explain Pretrial Services Agency (PSA) and Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency (CSOSA) supervision and testing requirements. The Directory will also outline a convicted person's path through the criminal justice system to include helpful information about inmate visitation, preparing for release from prison, and how to connect with benefits upon release. Please contact Donna Barnes Dbarnes@pdsdc.org for questions or to provide program updates.

The Office of Rehabilitation and Development (ORD) offers holistic representation and a range of client-centered, non-legal services for indigent people arrested in D.C. represented by appointed counsel in criminal and delinquency cases in Superior Court. ORD is composed of experienced, licensed masters-level forensic social workers and professional counselors who perform Youth Rehabilitation Act Studies, sentencing reports, and US Parole Commission evaluations with individualized treatment plans and recommendations. ORD assists clients, through their attorneys, to access appropriate treatment and resources. We are available for consultations through weekday Duty Day walk-ins or appointments.

If you have any recommendations for changes or updates to this directory, please contact Donna Barnes at DBarnes@pdsdc.org or (202) 824-2349.

General Supervision

601 Indiana Ave, NW #200 20004 | (202) 442-1668 | Janeth Munoz, Program Manager janeth.munoz@psa.gov

Monitors release conditions imposed by the Court. Supervision may include drug testing, regular reporting, verification of home address, and employment. Release conditions range from mere verification of address or employment to regular in-person reporting, drug testing, and stay away orders.

Specialized Supervision (Mental Health) Unit

601 Indiana Avenue, 9th Floor | (202) 220-5510, (202) 220-5510 | Gwenneth Corujo gwenneth.corujo@psa.gov,

Work-Release

Individuals ordered by the Court to a Department of Corrections (DOC) halfway house placement are monitored and/or supervised by PSA and DOC staff in conjunction with the relevant pretrial conditions of release. Those placed in a halfway house may also be subjected to drug testing with PSA. PSA with DOC reviews release conditions compliance. If in compliance with PSA and DOC requirements for at least 30 consecutive days, PSA will screen for HIPS placement and may recommend less restrictive conditions to the Court.

B. DC SPECIALTY COURTS

500 Indiana Avenue, NW 20001 (H. Carl Moultrie I, Courthouse, DC Superior Court)

Specialty courts or problem-solving courts focus on non-violent felony and/or misdemeanor cases and seek to hold participants accountable while addressing factors that may be underlining or causing criminal behavior. Drug testing, community service, and following through with job/service recommendations may be required. Participants may also be referred to social service programs. Completion of diversion options may lead to a dismissal of the misdemeanor case, reduction of felony charge to a specified misdemeanor charge, and a probation sentence. In U.S. Misdemeanor Community Courts, Drug Court, and Mental Health Community Court the decision to divert case rests with the discretion of the USAO; in the DC and Traffic Court calendars decision rests with the discretion of OAG.

DC and Traffic Community Courts

(202) 879-1950 | Michael Francis, LICSW, Community Court Coordinator michael.francis@dcsc.gov

The three DC and Traffic Court Calendars are community court based model centered on the MPD police districts. All three courts handle the same types of cases. DC and Traffic Community Court Calendar 1 (Courtroom 120) handles matters where the arrest occurred in MPD Police Districts 1, 3, and 4; Calendar 2 (Courtroom 115) handles matters where the arrest occurred in MPD Police Districts 2, 5 and 6; DC and Traffic Community Court Calendar 3 (Courtroom 116) handles matters where the arrest occurred in the MPD 7th District and U.S. Park Police, U.S. Capitol Police, and Secret Service. DC misdemeanors include possession of an open container of alcohol, panhandling, disorderly conduct, drinking in public. Criminal traffic violations include DWI, OWI, DUI, no permit, unregistered vehicle, operating after suspension, and reckless driving. Those detained in DCSC cell block pending initial arraignment hearing are interviewed to identify social service needs (drug/alcohol, behavioral health, GED and job readiness, workforce development, and healthcare services). Those in Traffic Court Calendars may be required to complete community service. Those with driving impaired charges are under PSA supervision. Those with certain criminal traffic violations (e.g. no permit) may be given the opportunity to get a driving permit and perform community service, then have case dismissed.

US Misdemeanor Community Courts

michael.francis@dcsc.gov

Community court based model centered on the MPD police districts. DC Superior Court judges hear matters where the arrests occurred in specific police districts. Community Courts handle U.S. misdemeanors (cases prosecuted by USAO, include drug possession, unlawful entry, second degree theft, sexual solicitation, simple assault, assaulting a police officer, and illegal dumping, no misdemeanor domestic violence cases. Participants are required to do community service if they enter into a Deferred Prosecution Agreement (DPA) or Deferred Sentencing Agreement (DSA)).

Drug Court (Superior Court Drug Intervention Program)

Michael.McGuinness@psa.gov

Successful completion can lead to "nolle prosequi" of misdemeanor charges. Other charges (some felonies) receive favorable sentencings. Eligibility: Non-violent or victim-involved misdemeanor or felony charges (some violent charges allowed at USAO and Drug Court judge discretion). PSA assessment need for treatment with positive drug test at lock-up, initial appearance, or spot test, drug treatment within prior 12 months, or 3 positive tests within 12 months. Ineligible: Serious medical or psychiatric conditions, prior conviction of a violent or victim-involved offense for which the client was serving a sentence, or under community supervision in the last 10 years. No pending DV, violent felonies, or gun charges. Pretrial Services Agency (PSA) screens for clinical eligibility: Must have mental health diagnosis (such as schizophrenia or bi-polar disorder) and be approved for supervision under PSA's Specialized Supervision Unit (SSU). Persons with a co-occurring substance abuse disorder may be eligible, must cooperate with drug testing and substance abuse treatment recommendations. If compliant for 4 months government will dismiss misdemeanor case; if felony, charge will be dropped to misdemeanor.

Fathering Court Initiative (FCI)

Participants are offered job training and placement assistance, intensive case management, parenting curriculum, counseling and mediation, continuing educational training, banking and money management, and intensive court supervision. Participants who gain employment and make child support payments for a continuous six (6) months may be eligible for a reduction in child support area.

C. COURT SERVICES & OFFENDER SUPERVISION AGENCY (CSOSA) COMMUNITY SUPERVISION SERVICES (CSS)

Responsible for the management and supervision of DC probationers, parolees, and supervised releases. CSS receives cases from the DC Superior Court (DCSC) for those under probation, from the United States Parole Commission (USPC) under parole or supervised release, and through the Interstate Commission for Adult Offender Supervision (ICAOS). CSOSA staff is trained to employ cognitive-behavioral and motivational interviewing techniques along with a system of graduated sanctions and incentives to secure compliance with supervision conditions. CSOSA utilizes information database system (SMART), that employs an automated risk and needs assessment tool that determines level of supervision and frequency of contacts with supervision officer. Based on assessment, one of four levels of supervision is assigned: Intensive, Maximum, Medium, or Minimum (see table next page). Drug testing schedule is based on supervision level and history of drug testing. CSS further utilizes an in-house computerized supervision planning instrument (AUTO Screener), that analyzes information (educational level, employment history, community support and networking, housing stability, victimization, prior supervision failures, physical health, leisure time, substance abuse history and drug testing, mental health history, criminal history and motivation and attitude) and recommends a prescriptive supervision plan (PSP). Individuals with past violent behaviors and/or high levels of drug use, likely placed under higher level of supervision, as indicated through AUTO Screener. visits are conducted by the Community Supervision Officer (CSO) and periodically with law enforcement personnel. Every other contact is a home visit. CSOSA uses incentives and sanctions for compliance with release conditions. Sanctions include (daily reporting, community service, electronic monitoring, jail sanctions, Halfway Back, and the Re-entry Sanctions Center (RSC)). As relapse is part of recovery, relapse prevention plan is developed as part of the individual’s treatment process. Referrals to prevention programs such as (NA) Narcotics Anonymous and (AA) Alcoholics Anonymous, contractual outpatient, intensive outpatient, and residential treatment programs. If relapse occurs CSOSA agent may refer for a substance abuse evaluation and recommend more treatment.

Supervision Level	Reports to CSO
Intensive	2 x per week
Maximum	1 x per week
Medium	2 x per month
Minimum	1 x per month Kiosk reporting option

CSOSA Supervision Drug Testing Schedule
1	2 x week, for 8 weeks (if clean for all 8 weeks, then level 2)
2	1 x week, for 4 weeks (if clean for all 4 weeks, then level 3)
3	1 x month, for 9 months
4	Spot testing optional at any level

CSO test for: Cocaine, Amphetamines, PCP, Opiates, Synthetic Opioids, Heroin, Methamphetamine (Meth), Marijuana, Alcohol, Synthetic Cannabinoids (K2), and Ethyl Glucuronide (EtG), CSO can increase the level of supervision without the Court’s consent. Electronic monitoring and/or placement in the Halfway Back Initiative program are last resort sanctioning tools before jail (see below).

Supervision Level	Report to CSO	Urine Monitoring	Sanctions/Punishment/Incentives
Halfway Back (see below)	24-hour quarantine 1 st 15 days.	Program staff's discretion	Last sanctioning tool before incarceration. Program focuses on substance abuse relapse issues.

II. SENTENCING

A. COLLATERAL CONSEQUENCES OF CRIMINAL SYSTEM INVOLVEMENT:

The consequences of an arrest and conviction almost always extend beyond the duration of the case. Arrested and convicted persons may experience lifelong public shame, as well as significant legal losses impacting their civil rights, public benefits, professional licenses, employment opportunities, and child custody.

A person's criminal record will exist indefinitely, unless that person takes action to set-aside, expunge, seal, or pardon the criminal activity. Currently, DC law does not provide pure expungement of the criminal record⁴. Records sealed on grounds of actual innocence⁵ still remain on file at the DC Superior Court. Records sealed as public policy⁶ remain available for law enforcement, military, colleges, and certain licensures.

Note: It is possible for private entities to learn detailed facts about an individual by simply searching "free" online databases.

In order to prepare adequately for sentencing, post sentence collateral consequences of criminal involvement must be considered. Upon arrest and conviction one can expect their economic, legal, and social status to be diminished. For example, the presentence report (PSR) includes information regarding the defendant's current financial status. The court considers the victim's losses and the sentenced person's ability to pay upon release from jail or prison when determining restitution. It is unlikely an individual will resume the same level of employment or credit status after completing a period of incarceration. Below are just a few ways criminal activity can create a negative impact for an individual and his family:

Employment: Certain professions require the employee to possess special licenses, certifications, or registrations. A person is not eligible for special licensing, known as an occupational license, if convicted of an offense "which bears directly on the fitness of the person to be licensed" (a person convicted of theft is not eligible to receive a license for a position of trust in a bank, security agent, or notary public). More broadly, the current trend is for employers to conduct criminal background checks and disqualify applicants based on arrests alone. Additionally, some employers (such as schools, healthcare agencies, etc.) are granted access to FBI records, which contain records of all arrests, even those that did not result in prosecution or conviction.

4. In DC, the expunged record is not completely deleted or destroyed. A record of the criminal involvement remains on file the court house.
 5. Factual innocence, not mere legal insufficiency, not guilty finding, beyond reasonable doubt.
 6. Records sealed under a legal benefit (YRA, juvenile records, adoption records, etc)

Asset/Civil Forfeiture: Seized property that either facilitated a crime or was acquired as a result of criminal activity can be taken no matter whether the property is owned by a third-party uninvolved in the criminal act.

Adoption and Foster Care: All individuals who wish to be an adoptive or foster parent and any adult also residing in the home are subject to a criminal background check. A conviction of certain felonies of anyone living in the household may bar a child from living in the home.

DNA Testing: An individual arrested for a felony that involved physical contact with another person or with property is required to submit a DNA sample. The sample is held by law enforcement perpetually and can be used in the investigation of past and future crimes.

Driver's License: A DC motor vehicle operator's permit (driver's license) may be revoked or the issuance delayed after a conviction for a drug related offense.

Firearm Possession: No person convicted of a felony or domestic violence offense shall own or keep a firearm in DC.

Housing: A person arrested for a crime that took place on public housing property will likely lose his eligibility to receive public housing benefits. If the lease holder was not arrested for the crime but was aware that criminal activity was occurring on the premises, the lease holder will lose eligibility to receive public housing benefits. Moreover, private landlords and property managers frequently require prospective tenants to undergo a criminal background check in addition to a credit check before entering into a rental agreement.

Immigration: Anyone living in the United States without proper documentation is subject to arrest, detainment, and deportation.

Jury Duty: Persons with prior felony convictions are disqualified from DC jury service.

Military Service: The US military requires applicants to disclose all past juvenile convictions and criminal involvement. Arrests, set-asides, expungements, and other adjudications of guilt are treated as convictions.

Voting: Registered DC voters may vote regardless of past criminal involvement, unless the registered voter is incarcerated outside of DC, or serving a felony sentence in DCDOC custody.

Parental Rights: Parental rights may be terminated based upon convictions related to certain crimes against children.

Public Office: No person convicted of a felony shall serve on the DC Council, office of Mayor, or be appointed judge in a DC Court. A person convicted of a federal or state felony is unable to serve on a federal grand jury or petit jury unless her civil rights have been restored by the President of the United States of America.

Sex Offenses: Persons convicted of a sex offense may be required to enlist on the sex offender registry of the jurisdiction where they reside. Persons incarcerated for a sexual act(s) with a mental illness or those who develop a mental illness while incarcerated may be confined indefinitely after completing the sentence for the underlying conviction. With the passage of the Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2006 the Bureau of Prisons has the authority to seek the civil commitment of any “sexually dangerous person” in BOP custody. This authority allows BOP to hold someone in custody indefinitely even after the completion of his sentence. A person facing civil commitment is entitled to a hearing before a judge. In order to civilly commit someone, BOP must prove that the person engaged or attempted to engage in sexually violent conduct or an act of child molestation. In addition, BOP must establish that the person suffers from a serious mental illness, abnormality, or disorder which would cause him to have serious difficulty in refraining from sexually violent conduct or child molestation, if released. BOP may rely on any available records to establish sexual dangerousness, including court records, any admissions made during treatment, or other mental health records.

B. PRESENTENCE INVESTIGATION (PSI)/PRESENTENCE REPORT (PSR)

Lorenzo Harris, Branch Chief, (202) 442-1491 lorenzo.harris@csosa.gov

Presentence Investigation (PSI) - Investigation conducted by a community supervision officer (CSO) traces the convicted person’s social and criminal history. The Court will order PSIs for those facing prison as a result of a conviction. A post-sentence investigative report is conducted upon request from BOP or DC Superior Court judge when updated social and mental health information is desired.

Persons released into the community pending sentencing must report to 300 Indiana Avenue, NW Rm 2070, within 24 hours of conviction. The investigating CSO will conduct an initial interview within 2 weeks of receiving the case. Detained persons are interviewed at their respective places of confinement.

Note: We encourage the attorney to accompany the client to the PSI interview. To learn the name of the presentence investigator call (202) 442-1467 or (202) 442-1432. The CSO’s email address is the first name and last name separated by a period (e.g. john.down@csosa.gov). The PSI examines the person’s juvenile, neglect, and criminal history, adjustment on prior probation/parole, economic data, education, employment history, mental and physical health, as well as information the CSO, Court, or client may deem relevant. The investigation conducted for a person convicted of a sexual offense requires answering extensive details about his lifelong sexual activities, dating history, and parental disciplinary methods. The police report(s) and the client’s stated version of the offense, as provided at the PSI interview, and the written plea proffer (if the defense provides it to the PSI writer) are incorporated into the PSR.

Presentence Report (PSR) (also referred as Presentence Investigation (PSI): Prepared by the CSO (Community Supervision Officer/Probation/Parole Officer) memorializes data received from presentence investigation. The report further includes the CSO’s evaluative summary, sentencing guideline computation, intervention plan, suggested special conditions, and recommended sentence. The Court allows CSOSA 7 weeks and 2 days from the date of the guilty verdict/plea to complete the PSR. The final report must be submitted to the Court electronically via the CSOSA SMART system (Supervision Management Automated Records Tracking) 51 days after the conviction. If the Court recommends a specific designation for incarceration the recommendation should be appended to the Judgment and Commitment Order (J&C). The PSR and J&C are used by the Bureau of Prisons to classify and designate inmates to correctional facilities. Immediate family members, with some exceptions, mentioned in PSR are included on the inmate's visitation list (see Visitation at BOP Facility, Confinement Chapter).

C. YOUTH REHABILITATION ACT (YRA)

Currently, in order to be eligible for a Youth Rehabilitation Act (YRA) sentence, the individual must have pled or have been found guilty prior to his 22nd birthday⁷. Benefit of sentence under the YRA: Upon successful completion of an eligible sentence, including incarceration and/or community supervision (probation, parole, or supervised release), the conviction may be "set aside" thereby precluding it from being publicly accessible, (the record is not available to employers, landlords, or academic institutions). Despite the set aside, the conviction remains accessible to law enforcement personnel and Court. To receive YRA sentence, the Court must determine that the youthful offender will benefit from rehabilitation. When the imposed YRA probation period or sentence is unconditionally terminated the YRA sentence will be set aside upon certification of the sentencing court.

Note: A set aside of an YRA sentence does not seal the underlying arrest that led to the prosecution and conviction. This means that the arrest record is available to be accessed by employers or other entities who may conduct background checks. In order to seal the arrest record and prevent access via background checks the person to whom the record applies must file a motion in the Superior Court for the District of Columbia requesting that the arrest be sealed. It is a separate process. For questions regarding record sealing and to schedule a time to meet with an attorney, please contact the PDS Prisoner & Reentry Legal Services Program by calling (202) 824-2801.

All convictions except murder and a second crime of violence while armed are YRA eligible. The Court may on its own accord impose a YRA sentence from information received at the time of conviction. If additional information is needed, the Court may order a YRA study prepared by the DC Department of Corrections (DOC) or an independent evaluator [most often the Public Defender Service Office of Rehabilitation and Development (ORD)]. Youth Rehabilitation Act Studies (YRAS, hereby "Study") prepared by the DOC will be completed at CDF (DC Jail) or CTF. (A DOC prepared Study requires at least 60 days to complete. Detained Title 16 Youth remain on the CTF juvenile unit⁸. Studies by ORD are prepared in the community, halfway house, or CDF/CTF. CJA cases are eligible for ORD-conducted studies provided the cases do not present conflicts of interest. If the case involves co-defendants,

7. The DC City Council is currently considering Bill 22-451, "Youth Rehabilitation Amendment Act of 2017" that may change the age of YRA and other factors

8. October 2018, the Title 16 residents will be transferred New Beginnings in Laurel, Maryland and each defendant requests a Study, the ORD Chief will refer the attorney to private practitioners approved by the Court to prepare the Study (see Sentencing Chapter/Independent Sentencing Experts.).The Court must pay for necessary psychological and/or psychiatric evaluations. To procure an evaluation, the defense attorney must submit a motion to the Court request the relevant evaluation. The defense attorney is responsible for submitting the request for the final payment through the Court. For more information on YRAS at the CTF contact Case Manager, Doreen Deterville, YRA Chairperson (202) 790-6678 doreen.deterville@dc.gov; Sybil Davis-Mayweather, Case manager (202) 790-6818 sybil.davismayweather@dc.gov To fax CTF/YRAS: (202) 698-3301. For inquiries regarding PDS YRAS, contact Betsy Biben, Chief, ORD (202) 824-2328.

Selective Service Registration: 18 year old male US citizens, dual-nationals, and non-citizens (including illegal aliens, legal permanent residents, seasonal agricultural workers, and refugees) must register for Selective Service. Registration must occur within 30 days of a man’s 18th birthday. If residing in a hospital, mental institution, or prison while turning 18, registration must occur within 30 days after being released at an age younger than age 26. Where to register: US Post Offices, DC DMV, and online www.sss.gov Male students who fail to register before turning 26 years old are ineligible for Federal Work Study, Pell Grants, Stafford Loans, and are subject to a fine and/or imprisonment.

US Military Enlistment: The US military requires candidates to disclose all past juvenile and criminal involvement. Arrests, set-asides, expungements, and other adjudications of guilt are treated as convictions. If a candidate has been charged or convicted of one felony, he must file a request for a moral conduct waiver. Candidates with more than one felony (including juvenile dispositions) will most likely not qualify for a waiver. The Navy, Marines, and Air Force reject applicants with a felony. The Army has been known to consider a waiver for individuals convicted of a felony on a case-by-case basis.

D. CHILDREN CHARGED AS ADULTS (TITLE 16, DC CODE)

In DC, youth can be prosecuted as an adult in three ways:

1. US Attorney’s Office charges 16 or 17 year old with one or more crimes enumerated under DC Code § 16-2301 (murder, first degree sexual assault, armed robbery, etc.).
2. Office of the Attorney General files a motion to move the case of 15 year old from Family Court to Criminal Court. The Family Court judge holds hearing to determine the youth’s rehabilitative prospects and the public’s interest to transfer. Youth must be charged with committing an adult level felony.
3. Youth 16 or 17 commits a moving traffic offense.

Detained Title 16 males are held in a segregated unit at CTF until sentenced. Detained Title 16 females are held at the Youth Services Center (YSC) or a DYRS contract group home. Beginning October 1, 2018, Title 16 youth will be held at New Beginnings Youth Development Center (NBDC), in Laurel, MD pending sentencing. If sentenced to greater than one year, the US Department of Justice (BOP) assumes custody of the youth. There is decreasing recognition of a 2011 agreement between DCDOC and BOP to allow sentenced Title 16 youth to remain in DCDOC custody until they reach age 18⁹. Increasingly, sentenced Title 16 youth under age 18 are transferred to BOP custody. Designation of youth is coordinated via BOP Designation and Sentence Computation Center in Grand Prairie, TX. The BOP does not house youth (under 18) in its facilities. BOP contracts with state, local, and private facilities to house under age 18 youth (most commonly, DC youth are designated to Garza County, Texas, and Abraxas Academy in Morgantown, PA.

Note: Children convicted as adults are not automatically emancipated. Although convicted as adult, the child may still be entitled to educational, medical, and social service benefits. If the child was involved in the juvenile, special education, and/or neglect systems prior to adult conviction, rehabilitative services through those systems should be explored as a sentencing alternative.

The Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) - is a federal law enacted to safeguard the privacy and accuracy of information in one's credit or consumer report. A credit or consumer report includes consumer credit information and may also contain criminal background information. Under FCRA a prospective employer who wants to obtain a consumer report in making a hiring decision must:

- Provide a written notice to the applicant and obtain the applicant's consent before obtaining the applicant's consumer report,
- Provide the applicant with a pre-adverse action notice, a copy of the consumer report and provide the applicant with a Summary of Rights, and
- Provide an Adverse Action Notice to the applicant if the prospective employer is going to deny the applicant based on information in the applicant's consumer report.

Fair Criminal Record Screening for Housing of Act (2016) (FCRSHA) prohibits District housing providers from asking about arrests, pending criminal accusations, or criminal convictions on rental housing application or during the application review process. FCRSHA requires rental housing providers to:

- Provide written notice of rent eligibility criteria to applicants, and

- Not inquire or ask questions related to an applicant’s criminal background or arrest history prior to making a conditional offer of acceptance to rent the property.

Rental property owner may ask about pending criminal accusations or criminal conviction(s) only after extending a conditional offer of housing. Housing provider may only ask about criminal accusations pending at the time of the criminal background check or about specific convictions (identified at DC Law 21-259, Sec 3(d)).

Fair Criminal Record Screening Amendment Act of 2014 (commonly referred to as “Ban the Box”) aims to prevent unlawful screening of a job applicant’s criminal background. OHR investigates complaints that allege violations of the law, and when violations are found, penalties can be imposed with money to reporter. Complaints must have occurred on or after the law’s effective date of 12/17/2014. The law applies to all employers with 11 or more employees for job positions within the DC. This includes District government, companies and non-profit organizations. The federal government is NOT covered under this law. During the application or interview processes, the law prohibits employers from asking job applicants about: Arrests; criminal accusations made against the applicant that are not pending or did not result in a conviction; or criminal convictions. An employer may ask about criminal conviction(s) only after extending a conditional offer of employment (the employer can never ask about arrests or criminal accusations that aren’t pending). An employer who properly asks about a criminal conviction can only withdraw the offer or take adverse action against the applicant for legitimate business reason(s) recorded in the Act (fitness of ability to perform the job, age when offense occurred, frequency and seriousness of offense). If a job offer is revoked or adverse action taken, job applicants can also request their interview and hire-related records, including any criminal background records obtained from the employer using the Request for Records form or any other method. If you believe an employer violated or is violating the Act by making an improper inquiry into your criminal background or by improperly revoking a conditional offer of employment because of your criminal background, you can file a complaint with OHR within 365 days of the alleged violation. This complaint can either be filed online (www.ohr.dc.gov), or in person at OHR 441 4th Street, NW, Suite 570N, (202) 727-4559.

The PDS Community Reentry Program (202) 824-2801 assists those with records resolve disputes related to FCRA law and other legal issues stemming from one’s criminal history and its impact on employment.

C. COLLEGE ASSISTANCE

DC residents enjoy college admission and scholarship opportunities not available to students in other jurisdictions. Some scholarships are unique to students from selected DC schools. Grade Point Average (GPA) is important but students with average (2.5 to 3.0), low (1.8 to 2.4) GPA, and/or GED recipients should not be discouraged from seeking a four-year or post-secondary trade school education. The widest openings for college admission and scholarship opportunities seem to focus on minority students interested in science, math, and education degrees. Many colleges offer specialized learning programs for students with special education and/or learning disable needs. Special Ed and Learning Disabled (LD) are not subjected to the same admission standards as traditional students. See college's website: www.\(Collegename\).edu/admissions.edu/admissions) for detailed information about the Special Ed, LD student admission procedure.

District of Columbia College Access Program (DC-CAP) - helps DC high school seniors identify the right college and prepare admission and financial aid applications. CAP provides college "last dollar" award scholarships of up to $2,000 (up to five years) to DC public school students to help make up the difference between a student's resources, financial aid, and actual college expenses. DC-CAP counselors are available at each DC public high school, or contact: DC-CAP, 1029 Vermont Avenue, NW 20005 (202) 783-7933 www.dccap.org

College Financial Aid - DC residents have the benefit of three financial programs for college; DC TAG, LEAP, and DC Adoption.

- DC TAG (DC Tuition Assistance Grant) - Covers the financial difference (up to $10,000) between in-state and out-of-state tuition at public colleges and universities throughout the United States. Eligibility: Under age 24, DC resident for at least 12 months prior to enrolling, acceptance in an eligible college or university. Note: Incarcerated persons who are eligible to leave the institution and attend classes may apply. D. SPECIAL EDUCATION

DCPS must provide a free appropriate public education (FAPE) to every student.

IDEA also mandates that students learn in the least restrictive environment (LRE) possible. Public school districts are obligated to locate, identify, and evaluate all children with disabilities including children who are homeless, wards of the state, home schooled, or attend private school. A parent may initiate a request for an evaluation to determine if the child has a disability. The disability must include at least one of the following: Intellectual disability, learning disability, hearing impairment, visual impairment, speech or language impairment, serious emotional disturbance, orthopedic impairment, autism, traumatic brain injury, and other health impairment.

An IEP (Individualized Education Program) guides the delivery of special education supports and services for the student with a disability. Services can be: transportation, speech and language pathology, audiology, counseling, interpreting, occupational therapy, medical, parental counseling and training, physical therapy, psychological, therapeutic recreation, rehabilitation counseling, and social work support. The development of an IEP requires a team effort: the parent, the child, the child's teacher, an individual qualified to interpret the instructional implications of the evaluation, a representative of the public agency, and other individuals who have knowledge of or special expertise regarding the child.

DC Special Education students are eligible to receive services through their 22nd birthday. Therefore, it is important when representing individuals younger than 21 years old to obtain all school records to determine whether he has ever been identified as a special education student. Special education determination is generally established in the IEP. If the student has unfulfilled special education needs he can go to his neighborhood school (with IEP) to re-enroll for special education services. If the local school cannot meet the student's special education needs, the parent can request placement in a private school.

The DC Superior Court Special Education Panel (202) 879-1406 accepts CJA cases.

Pro bono legal representation is also available through Children's Law Center (202) 467-4900, School Justice Project (202) 618-1247, and Advocates for Justice and Education (202) 678-8060

V. SHELTERS, TRANSITIONAL, PERMANENT HOUSING

DC's Coordinated Entry System (CES) is a process that guides service providers on how to prioritize the housing and social service (employment, behavioral, physical health, and benefits) needs of homeless individuals and families. The first step with CES is the Vulnerability Index-Service Prioritization Decision Assistance Tool (VI-SPDAT) pre-screen assessment, administered by trained social service agents¹⁰. VI-SPDAT takes about 10 minutes to complete. Once the VI-SPDAT is complete it is reviewed by a Coordination of housing providers that matches the housing and social services needs with available resources. DC Department of Human Services (DHS), in agreement with the majority of local housing providers, determines which individual of family receives the next key to an available housing unit.

C. PUBLIC AND SUBSIDIZED HOUSING

Note: DCHA closed the housing waiting list to all new applications (public housing and choice voucher). DCHA will make announcements when the lists are open on the website www.dchousing.org and in the news media. DCHA will continue to work with the 70,000 plus applicants currently on the waiting list. There will be a mass mailing to all applicants on the list. If applicants do not “timely” respond to DCHA expressing their intent to remain on the list, they will be dropped from the list.

The District of Columbia Housing Authority (DCHA) administers 3 subsidized housing programs for eligible US citizens, lawful permanent residents, refugees, asylums, persons granted withholding of deportation/removal, victims of trafficking. Undocumented immigrants are NOT eligible for public or subsidized housing. (1) Public housing: Government owned housing accommodations managed by DCHA. Public housing consists of various multi-unit apartment and townhouse communities located throughout the city. (2) Housing Choice Voucher-Tenant Based Program (HCVP) (formerly known as Section 8): Rental assistance to tenants who reside in privately owned, DCHA approved accommodations. HCVP subsidized units are managed by private landlords and monitored by DCHA guidelines. HCVP awardees can transfer their eligibility to other HCVP participating jurisdictions. (3) Housing Choice Voucher Moderate Rehabilitation-Project Based Vouchers (formerly known as Section 8 Mod): Tenants reside in designated units within privately owned housing communities. “Mod” awardees cannot transfer their eligibility to other “non-Mod” rental units or to other jurisdictions.

D. FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS: HOUSING

Q: Do you have to be a DC resident to receive individual overnight shelter?

Answer: If an individual request overnight shelter during a period of hyperthermia (95° or above) or hypothermia (32° or below) the individual must be afforded shelter. If the outdoor temperature is not extreme, the shelter facility may require residents to provide documentation of DC residency, or a sworn declaration that they intend to remain in DC permanently and not be receiving public benefits from another jurisdiction.

Q: Does head-of-household seeking shelter for her family have to be a DC resident?

Answer: Families seeking shelter in DC must be a “registered DC homeless family” before being admitted into homeless shelter for families. To register, the head of household must report to the Virginia Williams Resource Center, 920 Rhode Island Ave, NE 20018, (202) 724-3853 Mon-Thurs 8:30am to 4pm. Friday intake via the Shelter Hotline 1 (800) 535-7252.

Q: I have a job and/or receive income benefits (Social Security, pension,) but circumstances will force me and my family to become homeless. Can my family receive family shelter, even though I have an income?

Answer: Yes, DC will provide “emergency family shelter.” However, if the family is behind with rent/mortgage, the head of household (HOH) should first seek assistance through an agency that host an Emergency Rental Assistance Program (ERAP) (see Material Assistance Chapter). If HOH can demonstrate an ability to pay the upcoming months’ rent, they may be eligible to receive emergency assistance and remain in their current residence.

Q: I don't want to go to a shelter. Can I go directly to a transitional housing or single room occupancy program?

Answer: Getting admitted into a transitional housing or single room occupancy program requires the individual or family to complete an application process. Rarely does such a program admit an individual or family within 24 hours after receiving the application. The application process can take up to 2 weeks and if accepted, the date to enter the program can take up to one year.

Q: I live in public subsidized housing, can my 21 year old daughter return to live with me when she is released from prison?

Answer: Provided your daughter was not convicted of a sex offense or of making crystal methamphetamine on publically subsidized property, she can return to live on the property, provided the housing unit has adequate sleeping space and her tendency is approved by the subsidizing authority.

Q: My partner physically abuses me and I fear that my life and the life of my children are in danger. Can I (we) escape a go directly to a shelter?

Answer: Yes, you should always leave when you feel your life is in danger. It is best that you escape to a shelter that specializes in working with victims of domestic violence. DV shelters are safe locations and do not publically provide location and contact information. In the case of an emergency you should go to the nearest police district, where you will be safe and referred for further assistance. To receive long term shelter at a DV shelter, victims must be registered with the Crime Victims Compensation Program (515 5th Street, NW (Superior Ct Bldg B) and have a Temporary Protection Order (TPO).

VI. BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

DC Department of Behavioral Health (DBH), (formerly referred to as Department of Mental Health) provides behavioral (mental) health, and substance abuse services to adults, children, teenagers, and families. Services are offered at community health centers, schools, and DBH Core Service Agencies (CSA) include: Emergency, inpatient, and outpatient psychiatric care, individual, group, and family counseling, community support, intensive case management, medication, psycho-educational therapy, and treatment for children experiencing behavioral, emotional, and learning challenges. To enroll contact the Access HelpLine (202) 671-3070 or the consumer line 1-(888) 7WE-HELP (1-(888) 793-4357).

HelpLine staff conduct initial mental health assessment via telephone and refer callers to appropriate mental health provider, and if possible, facilitate a 3-way conference call to schedule an intake appointment. Residents may receive services at CSA of their choice, conditioned upon space availability. If CSA is at maximum caseload capacity, CSA must connect the consumer to another CSA.

Care is covered by job-based private health insurance, Medicare, Medicaid, TriCARE, veterans' health coverage, and certain student health insurance plans, and self-pay. Policies must include: Doctor visits, hospital stays, emergency room care, maternity, and newborn care, mental health treatment, substance abuse counseling and treatment, rehabilitative services and devices, dental and vision care, prescription drugs, lab tests. Persons on parole, probation, supervised release must have health insurance coverage.

Links persons at the DC Jail and CTF with behavioral health services while detained and upon their release. Defense attorneys and others concerned with the behavioral health of an inmate are encouraged to call JDP to learn which services the inmate is assigned to and further link with appropriate behavioral health services. If housing is needed the consumer will receive "priority" placement on the DBH housing waiting list. JDP conducts a daily audit of the DOC census to identify DBH consumers. JDP informs DBH of consumer's incarceration.

Civily Committed Sex Offenders, Brian Grover, Director

Under the Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2006, the Bureau of Prisons have the power to seek civil commitment of any "sexually dangerous person" in BOP custody. This power allows BOP to indefinitely hold someone in custody after the completion of sentence. A person facing civil commitment is entitled to a hearing before a federal judge in the district where the person is held. (see table below for federal defender representation in North Carolina and Massachusetts). In order to civilly commit someone, BOP must prove that the person engaged or attempted to engage in sexually violent conduct or an act of child molestation. In addition, BOP must establish that the person suffers from a serious mental illness, abnormality, or disorder which would cause them to have serious difficulty in refraining from sexually violent conduct or child molestation if released. BOP may rely on any available records to establish sexual dangerousness, including court records, any admissions made during treatment or other mental health records.

Convicted Sex Offenders: Dr. Cheryl Renaud, Director

Sentenced sex offenders may be designated to a BOP “non-residential” institution with a Sex Offender Treatment Program Non-Residential (SOTP-NR). Inmates involved in the SOTP-NR reside in general population and receive six to eight hours of individual and group treatment per week. BOP facilities DC region with SOTP-NR programs are: FMC Carswell (Female), FMC Devens, FCI Elkton, FCI Englewood, USP Marion, USP Tucson, FCI Seagoville, FCI Petersburg or FCI Mariana. Sentenced inmates with a history of sexual offenses may be considered for intensive residential treatment (SOTP-R) at FMC Devens, and USP Marion. SOTP-R are segregated units. Participation in SOTP is voluntary. Referrals made by mental health manager at inmate’s current facility.

Sex Offender Management Program (SOMP) is a mandatory program assignment for sex offenders who do not volunteer for SOTP. SOMP evaluates risk of sexual re-offense and associated management needs, and recommends appropriate management services during incarceration and upon release to the community.

Aftercare treatment - Transitional housing with case management. NA/AA meetings up to 6 months after resident discharged from residential and/or hospital treatment.

A. ACCESSING GOVERNMENT-FUNDED SUBSTANCE USE TREATMENT SERVICES

Court-involved persons may receive outpatient, detoxification (detox), and residential treatment through Department of Behavioral Health (DBH). Court-ordered persons who fail to provide urine sample (for any reason) are suspected of drug use and are returned to court or given other sanctions. DBH does not require an individual to be court-involved to utilize services. Medicaid eligible persons may receive medically monitored substance abuse treatment at any acute care DC hospital.

In general, DBH programs follow the self-regulating behavior or therapeutic community treatment models. Methadone maintenance is available through DBH contract providers; Good Hope Institute, and Comprehensive Treatment Center (see this Chapter).

Note: Residential treatment programs do not accept persons actively on methadone.

Pretrial Services Agency (PSA)

All persons arrested in DC are asked to submit a urine sample that screens for illicit substances, including cannabinoid synthetic drugs (see Chapter I, Community Supervision Chapter for specific listing of PSA programs/units). PSA services are accessed by Court order. PSA provides assessments, monitoring, outpatient groups, and referrals. Staff reports progress directly to Court through written reports and, if needed, testimony at pretrial hearings. If urine testing is positive, PSA staff may refer for more intensive outpatient treatment or residential treatment program (included in this Chapter).

Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency (CSOSA)

CSOSA supervised persons are monitored for illicit drug use. If individual tests positive CSOSA will impose special conditions including more frequent drug and supervision monitoring, and treatment. Level of treatment determined by an assessment conducted by CSOSA Central Intervention Team (CIT) (see CIT this Chapter). Defense and Court may appeal for different level of treatment than that recommended in the CIT assessment (the Court may order that CSOSA provide residential treatment when CIT recommends outpatient).

Addiction Prevention Recovery Administration (APRA) merged with the DC Department of Mental Health as of October 1, 2013. Combined agency has been renamed Department of Behavioral Health, Clinical Services Administration (DBH/CSA) and provides treatment and recovery services for residents with mental illness and substance use disorders. If substance abuse is primary need for treatment individual must appear in person at DBH's Assessment and Referral Center, 75 P Street, NE, 20002. Court-involved persons may receive a preliminary assessment at the satellite office in the H. Carl Moultrie, I Courthouse, room 114. Programs with DBH contract are identified in this Chapter. If mental illness is primary diagnosis individual or social service agent should contact the DBH access helpline at (202) 671-3070 or 1-(888) 793-4357.

No cost treatment is also available through a number of faith-based and spiritually-based institutions (Catholic Charities, SOME, and Salvation Army.) Participants who successfully complete residential treatment phase are offered aftercare case management support and transitional housing or referred to Oxford Houses (see Housing Chapter). Many programs follow NA/AA 12-step model where former addicts help others through fellowship and mentoring.

Note: Transfer of Community Supervision to another state or US territory: Interstate Compact for Adult Offender Supervision

When a judge places a client on probation and grants permission for client to reside, receive treatment or obtain employment in another state, the probation supervision MUST be accepted by the receiving jurisdiction prior to the probationer moving to that jurisdiction. Clients on parole, supervised release and mandatory release are not processed for transfer via the Interstate Compact rules.

Procedures to transfer community supervision from DC to another state:

- Applications for the transfer of community supervision to another jurisdiction are handled through CSOSA's Interstate Compact Office (ICO), 25 K Street, NE 20001 (202) 442-1276. ICO initiates the action to transfer supervision upon receipt of the J&C and PSI. It is recommended that the documents be hand-delivered or faxed to the ICO, fax (202) 442-1396. If the client is changing jurisdiction to attend a program, employment or permanent residence a copy of the acceptance letter must also be included.
- Transfer applications require client's written consent on:
 - Application for Transfer
 - Authorization for Random Drug Test, and
 - Authorization to Review Psychological Information

Note: Even though the Court grants permission for client to receive treatment in another jurisdiction, the client cannot leave DC until s/he is granted a "Travel Permit." The travel permit, issued by CSOSA, authorizes travel to a specific destination within a specified timeframe.

- If client is released to the community pending acceptance by the receiving state, s/he must report to an assigned Community Supervision Officer (CSO) until receiving permission to travel to the receiving jurisdiction.
- If client is held in jail pending acceptance from the receiving state, the defense should help facilitate the application process. J&C will designate who the client should be released to upon acceptance by the receiving state.

How does client travel from the sending State to receiving State:

- It is NOT the function of CSOSA or the US Marshall Service to provide transportation for community supervision transfers. The client is expected to make his own travel arrangements and incur the cost. Client should seek to obtain travel cost from personal assets, family or friends. If client is unable to secure travel cost after exhausting personal resources his attorney should contact the Office of Rehabilitation and Development (ORD) of PDS (202) 628-1200 for information about additional resources.
- Travel arrangements must be in accord with the Travel Permit. If traveling via public transportation, client must show a valid government issued ID before boarding a public carrier. If client does not have ID, CSOSA can arrange for ID.

VIII. WHAT TO EXPECT AFTER JUDGE IMPOSES SENTENCE

A. COMMUNITY SUPERVISION: SUPERVISED, UNSUPERVISED PROBATION PAROLE, SUPERVISED RELEASE:

Individuals sentenced to a period of probation (supervised or unsupervised) are instructed to report “immediately” from the courtroom to CSOSA’s Offender Processing Unit (OPU), 300 Indiana Avenue, NW, Room 2070 (202) 585-7314, Kaitlin Forsha, Branch Chief kaitlin.forsha@csosa.gov Community Supervision Officer (CSO)/Probation/Parole Officer) in Offender

Processing Unit will: Interview probationer, take probationer’s picture (for internal CSOSA use), collect urine sample, arrange DNA test (all felonies and certain misdemeanors), and direct probationer to report to the assigned (CSO) within 48 hours. This processing time takes approximately 30 to 60 minutes.

Parolees and Supervised Releasees are instructed to report to OPU within 48 hours after release from prison.

Courthouse Release:

Individuals sentenced to serve misdemeanor time who have been cleared for release by DC DOC are eligible for courthouse release. DOC legal instrument examiners are stationed in the main cellblock to approve courthouse release.

Individuals sentenced to “time served” or probation and cleared for release are also eligible for courthouse release.

All applicable paperwork must be delivered to main cellblock on C Level no later than 3:30pm Monday through Friday to be eligible for courthouse release.

At release, DOC provides a photo ID, a change of clothes, medical follow-up and a Metro fare card.

- Those in halfway house placements must return to the halfway house after Court to be cleared by DOC Records Office, failing to do so may be charged with an escape/abscondance violation of program.

Inmates with significant disabilities and/or a serious and persistent mental illness should not be discharged from the jail without being brought to the attention of the DC Jail Linkage Plus Program (see Behavioral Health Chapter). The Linkage program works to ensure that persons living with mental illness can seamlessly receive treatment upon their release. To check whether the inmate is involved in the Linkage Plus Program contact DBH Jail Liaison agent (202) 725-8345, Retna Pullings retna.pullings@dc.gov, Tanya Touchstone tanya.touchstone@dc.gov Forensic Mental Health Coordinators. To check whether inmate will receive an ample supply of prescription medication (to include HIV medication) call Unity Health Care at the jail (202) 698-0400 or (202) 698-0413.

B. INCARCERATION: (JAIL/PRISON/WEEKENDS)

Those sentenced to incarceration are transported to the jail (Central Detention Facility (CDF)) for processing. New inmates are processed and classified which includes: photo ID, fingerprinting, full medical examination, HIV/AIDS testing (voluntary), mental health examination (if indicated), and psychosocial interview with jail case manager. Those sentenced to more than one year will be designated to a federal contract facility.

For “special reasons” the Court may permit “Voluntary Surrender” allowing the sentenced person to remain in the community until BOP designates a facility. Upon notice, client must report the BOP designated correctional facility. Voluntary surrender reduces the institutional security level score; it does not reduce the length of a sentence.

To be eligible for “felony” voluntary surrender:

- Must have a pre-sentence report (PSR)
- Must be on PR pending surrender
- The sentence must be more than six (6) months
- No pending criminal cases in DCSC or USPC
- Must be able to voluntarily surrender to the designated facility¹¹

Weekend(s) and/or intermittent sentences for misdemeanor offenders: Individuals serving misdemeanor sentences who self-surrender to the custody of the DC Department of Corrections must report to Intake Processing Center (IPC) at the DC Jail, 1901 D Street, SE 20003 (202) 698-4940. The IPC entrance is at the left of the jail’s main entrance. Must bring photo ID and copy of court order, to be admitted for self-surrender.

Both jails are located on the grounds of the DC General Hospital complex and accessible via automobile, metro rail silver, orange or blue line @ Stadium Armory, Metrobus: B2, 32, 34, P6, V7 92, & 96.

Weekend Sentences: The Court may order a sentence to be served on weekends. Weekend sentences are generally ordered when the Court seeks to avoid the individual losing a job, missing school, or when a continuous period of incarceration will create negative collateral hardship on the family. Weekenders serve their sentences at Correction Treatment Facility (CTF), after being processed through the DOC Intake Processing Center.

11. Given that the Court has no authority where the BOP designates felons, and some of the institutions may be farther than 500 miles from the District, the surrendering felon must be financially able to buy a plane ticket if necessary.

C. CLASSIFICATION AND DESIGNATION TO A JAIL/PRISON FACILITY:

DC Code Offenders serving one year or less for misdemeanor offenses are assigned to custody of the DC Department of Corrections (DOC). Men are imprisoned at the Central Detention Facility (CDF) and some at Correctional Treatment Facility (CTF). Women are imprisoned at CTF. Presentenced males 16 and 17, charged as adults are also held at CTF.

DC Code Offenders serving time for felony offenses greater than nine (9) months are placed in custody of Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP). Men sentenced for felony are held at DC Jail "Sentenced Unit" until BOP "Classifies and Designates" institution where inmate will begin serving sentence. The classification and designation process takes approximately 72 hours from time BOP receives designation package, followed by two or more weeks until inmate is transported to the designated institution.

BOP considers several "scoring" factors when determining inmate's institutional security level. Primary scoring factors considered are: (a) court-recommendation, (b) voluntary surrender status, (c) criminal history, (d) medical factors, (e) past associations/ gang involvement, (f) drug/alcohol history, and (g) escape history.

The BOP unit responsible for designation and placement of DC Code Offenders is named, "Alpha Team" Designation and Sentence Computation Center (DSCC), 346 Marine Forces Drive, Grand Prairie, Texas 75051, (972) 595-3028, (972) 352-4400, Fax (997) 595-3153 GRA-DSC/TeamAlpha@bop.gov, Angelicia Peterson, Alpha Team Operations Manager www.A9peterson@bop.gov If the order is amended make sure BOP receives the order from the judge by asking the judge's chambers to fax or email a copy of the order and any other supporting documents to the Alpha Team.

BOP has several facilities around the country that provide specialized services to inmates with heightened treatment and rehabilitation needs. Below is a list of BOP facilities that provide services to inmates with special needs. BOP attempts to place inmates within 500 miles of their city of residence.

IX. CONFINEMENT: DC DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS: (DC JAIL (CDF) & CORRECTIONAL TREATMENT FACILITY (CTF) & BOP (PRISONS & CONTRACT FACILITIES))

District of Columbia currently operates two jails to securely detain persons awaiting court hearings, USPC actions, or serving a sentence of one year or less. Both jails are run by the DC Department of Corrections (DOC). Central Detention Facility (CDF) is commonly referred as the DC Jail (CDF) located at 1901 D Street, SE. The other jail (next door) Correctional Treatment Facility (CTF), located at 1901 E Street, SE. CTF detains women, lower security level men, inmates in need of infirmity care, presentenced males under age 18 charged as adults¹² (Title 16), youth held pending the completion of their Youth Rehabilitation Act Study (YRAS), the Cooperator’s Unit, and men returning home from BOP six months prior to their release to assist with their reentry.

BOP is assigned authority for DC Code Offenders sentenced to prison terms longer than one year. BOP places DC prisoners in various prisons located around the country. (see www.bop.gov/locations for a list of BOP managed facilities and locations.) BOP attempts to place each prisoner in the “least restrictive facility for which s/he qualifies” within 500 miles of the residence where the individual is expected to be released. BOP also contracts with private security companies to detain DC Code Offenders. The Rivers Correctional Institution (privately owned by GEO Group, Inc.), in Winston, North Carolina is a commonly used private prison for DC Code Offenders under contract with BOP.

Persons arrested in the DMV by Immigration Customs Enforcement Agency (ICE) are mostly detained at contract local county and state jails and detention facilities. See Regional ICE Detention Centers (DMV), this chapter.

Children Charged as Adults¹³: Detained Title 16 males are held in a segregated unit at CTF, until sentenced. Detained Title 16 females are held at the Youth Services Center (YSC) or a DYRS contract group home. Beginning October 1, 2018, Title 16 youth (boys and girls) will be held at New Beginnings Youth Development Center (NBDC), in Laurel, MD pending sentencing. If sentenced to greater than one year, the U.S Department of Justice (BOP) assumes care and custody of the youth. There is decreasing recognition of a 2011 agreement between DCDOC and BOP to allow sentenced Title 16 youth to remain in DCDOC custody until they reach age 18¹⁴. Increasingly, DC Title 16 youth under age 18 are transferred to BOP custody. Designation of youth is coordinated via BOP Designation and Sentence Computation Center in Grand Prairie, TX. BOP does not house youth (under 18) in its facilities. BOP contracts with state, local, and private facilities to house under age 18 youth (most commonly), DC youth are designated to Rivers CI, Garza County, Texas, and Abraxas Academy in Morgantown, PA.

Gender Classification and Housing of DOC Inmates: Transgender, transsexual, inter-sex, and gender variant persons incarcerated by DC Department of Corrections (DOC) may request placement in a jail housing unit not in accord with their genitalia. DOC Transgender Committee (TC) (medical practitioner, mental health clinician, DOC supervisor, volunteer member of the transgender community) will review information that identifies inmate as transgender or intersex, interview inmate, and assess vulnerability to victimization if housed in general population. TC’s housing assessment is based on assessment of vulnerability, safety and security of inmate and staff, housing availability, gender identity, and genitalia. TC can recommend inmate be housed in general population, in protective custody, or in a unit consistent with gender identity, appearance, and overt expression that differs from their birth sex or genitalia.

Transgender Classification and Housing of BOP Inmates: PREA (Prison Rape Elimination Act) regulations require, in part: “In deciding whether to assign a transgender or intersex inmate to a facility for male or female inmates... the agency shall consider on a case-by-case basis whether a placement would ensure the inmate’s health and safety, and whether the placement would present management or security problems.”

Inmates are generally released to a Residential Reentry Center (RRC) (halfway house) or home confinement (Electronic Monitoring/GPS). Pre-release inmates agree to abide by strict monitoring and case management while residing at the RRC or at home (see RRC Chapter VI. for list of RRCs in DC). Pre-release inmates are expected to secure employment, obtain suitable housing and get connected to other services. RRC case managers and CSOSA staff (TIPS Unit) assist the inmate with developing a plan for reentry to the community. A suitable Release Plan requires the inmate to identify and secure, source of support, i.e. employment (paying at least minimum wage), public benefits, and access to medical and mental health services.

Medicaid/Food Stamp Application Process While Committed at DC DOC:

DC DOC inmates can be registered for DC Medicaid and SNAP prior to their release from DC DOC custody. Economic Security Administration (ESA) has an on-site agent who visits the inmate within 7 days of the inmate’s release date, interviews for eligibility, and submits the application to DHS. The released client can pick up their SNAP/EBT card at any ESA neighborhood location, immediately upon release. To ensure that a client is not overlooked by ESA contact: Ronald King, (202) 523-7167 (CDF) or (202) 508-0500 (DHS/ESA) ronald.king3@dc.gov

B. RELEASE DAY

Pre-release inmates are expected to travel from prison unescorted (without the accompaniment of family or friends) to the pre-release destination. If funds are available in the inmate's personal account, the inmate is expected to pay for the public transportation back to DC. Release Itinerary is provided that calculates the time it takes to travel from the prison to the RRC (halfway house). Generally, the institution transports the inmate from the prison to the nearest public transportation. Each inmate has 2 hours from when the bus/train/airplane arrives in DC to reach the designed RRC. Clients with significant disabilities are encouraged to request special assistance for a family, friend, or social service agency to receive them when they arrive in DC.

C. POST-RELEASE

Inmates granted supervised release, parole, or are near the end of their full sentence. Most post-release inmates transition to the community through a RRC. Clients on probation, parole or supervised release are supervised under the authority of CSOSA. Homeless inmates released near the end of their full sentence are allowed to complete their sentence at a RRC, under a "Public Law Placement" status. Public Law release provides the inmate with case management support to secure employment, obtain housing, and connect to other services before living independently in the community.

Release from Jail: Within 90 days of the inmate's release DOC, Unity Health Care, and Department of Behavioral Health (DBH) discharge planners assess the inmate's needs and develop a "Plan of Release" intended to aid in a successful transition to the community. The Plan recommends community services and referrals to various community-based social service providers. If the inmate is taking medication or receiving special medical and/or mental health services while in jail, the discharge planner will ensure that the inmate has 7 days of psychotropic of medication and 30 days of HIV medication. The Plan connects inmate with a community health care provider.

XI. REENTRY

Individuals should begin correcting the effects of a criminal arrest immediately after coming into contact with the police. What may seem a minor incidental police contact or arrest can linger to negative collateral consequences later in life. A criminal arrest remain on one's personal record forever, unless affirmative steps are taken to have the incident expunged, set aside, or commuted. Please review a partial list of Collateral Consequences of a Criminal Arrest in Chapter II (Sentencing).

The Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) - is a federal law enacted to safeguard the privacy and accuracy of information in one's credit or consumer report. A credit or consumer report includes consumer credit information and may also contain criminal background information. Under FCRA a prospective employer who wants to obtain a consumer report in making a hiring decision must:

- Provide a written notice to the applicant and obtain the applicant's consent before obtaining the applicant's consumer report,
- Provide the applicant with a pre-adverse action notice, a copy of the consumer report and provide the applicant with a Summary of Rights, and
- Provide an Adverse Action Notice to the applicant if the prospective employer is going to deny the applicant based on information in the applicant's consumer report.

Fair Criminal Record Screening for Housing Act (2016) (FCRSHA) prohibits District housing providers from asking about arrests, pending criminal accusations, or criminal convictions on rental housing application or during the application review process. FCRSHA requires rental housing providers to:

- Provide written notice of rent eligibility criteria to applicants, and
- Not inquire or ask questions related to an applicant's criminal background or arrest history prior to making a conditional offer of acceptance to rent the property.

Rental property owner may ask about pending criminal accusations or criminal conviction(s) only after extending a conditional offer of housing. Housing provider may only ask about criminal accusations pending at the time of the criminal background check or about specific convictions (identified at DC Law 21-259, Sec 3(d)).

Fair Criminal Record Screening Amendment Act of 2014 (commonly referred to as "Ban the Box") aims to prevent unlawful screening of a job applicant's criminal background. OHR investigates complaints that allege violations of the law, and when violations are found, penalties can be imposed with money to reporter. Complaints must have occurred on or after the law's effective date of 12/17/2014. The law applies to all employers with 11 or more employees for job positions within the DC. This includes District government, companies and non-profit organizations. The federal government is NOT covered under this law. During the application or interview processes, the law prohibits employers from asking job applicants about: Arrests; criminal accusations made against the applicant that are not pending or did not result in a conviction; or criminal convictions. An employer may ask about criminal conviction(s) only after extending a conditional offer of employment (the employer can never ask about arrests or criminal accusations that aren't pending). An employer who properly asks about a criminal conviction can only withdraw the offer or take adverse action against the applicant for legitimate business reason(s) recorded in the Act (fitness of ability to perform the job, age when offense occurred, frequency and seriousness of offense). If a job offer is revoked or adverse action taken, job applicants can also request their interview and hire-related records, including any criminal background records obtained from the employer using the Request for Records form or any other method. If you believe an employer violated or is violating the Act by making an improper inquiry into your criminal background or by improperly revoking a conditional offer of employment because of your criminal background, you can file a complaint with OHR within 365 days of the alleged violation. This complaint can either be filed online (www.ohr.dc.gov), or in person at OHR 441 4th Street, NW, Suite 570N, (202) 727-4559.

Credit Report/Score - A credit report is a summary of the applicant's debts and payment history. The credit report is indexed by the individual's social security number. Most employers, landlords, utility companies, and retailers want to know the applicants credit history and ability to fulfill a financial obligation. Individuals should review their credit report regularly. Individuals are entitled to one free copy of their report, annually. Under the Fair Credit Report Act, a consumer is also entitled to a free credit report (but not a free credit score) within 60 days of an adverse action (e.g. denied a loan including rent or mortgage, insurance, or employment) taken as a result of their credit score. Credit Score is a three-digit number calculated by using a point system based on positive and negative information from the credit report. Credit scores range from 300 to 850 points. The best score is 850.

There are three principal credit reporting agencies that maintain a record of an individual's debts and payment history. To review the information on your credit report and/or check your credit score, inquire online at:

XII. DIFFERENT ABILITIES (AKA, DISABILITIES)

Disability:

A. Intellectual, B. Physical:

Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) defines “disability:” Any physical or intellectual impairment that “substantially limits one or more major life activities.” The impairment must be expected to continue at least one year. The disability may include but not limited to: Hearing, vision, motor functioning impairments; neurological disorders (multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy), psychological disorders (intellectual, learning, schizophrenia, depression). Individuals with a history of a specific impairment or who are regarded as having impairment(s) are extended protection and reasonable accommodations under federal and state laws:

Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 exerts to protect persons with disabilities from discrimination when trying to access public and private services. ADA applies to criminal justice proceedings, jails and prisons.

ADA (1990) Title II: No qualified individual with a disability shall, by reason of such disability, be excluded from participation in or be denied the benefits of service, programs, or activities of a public entity, or be subjected to discrimination by any such entity.

A. INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY (ID)

(formerly known as mental retardation (MR)) is characterized as significant impairment of a person’s intellectual functioning and adaptive behaviors. Persons with ID have deficient mental limitations in their ability to learn, reason, make decisions, and negotiate day-to-day challenges. A person’s intellectual ability is commonly measured as a result of an Intelligence Quotient (IQ) test. The median score of an IQ test is 100, a score below 70 is considered intellectually disabled (ID). IQ test are administered by psychologist trained to administer intelligence test. Persons diagnosed as ID are protected under the American with Disabilities Act. To qualify for government supportive ID services, the characteristics of physical and/or mental impairment must be documented before the 18th birthday.

B. PHYSICAL DISABILITY

are limitations of a person’s physical functioning, mobility, dexterity, or stamina. The physical impairment must substantially limit major life activities, and prevent or severely restrict the person from performing tasks of central importance to daily life. Impairments that generally meet the definition of disability include, but are not limited to: Deafness, blindness, missing limbs, or mobility impairments requiring the use of a wheelchair, Autism, Cancer, Cerebral Palsy, Diabetes, Epilepsy, HIV/AIDS, Multiple Sclerosis, Obsessive Compulsive Disorder, and Schizophrenia.

Note: Corrective and/or mitigating measures such as medication, medical equipment and devices, (hearing aids, prosthetic limbs, and wheelchairs) that reduce or eliminate the impairment, to where it does not substantially limit a major life activity, “may” be considered in determining whether an individual is disabled.

C. HIV/AIDS

1.9% District of Columbia residents are living with HIV¹⁵. Men having sex with men (MSM) and heterosexual women are the two leading transmitters of the virus. District Wards 5, 6, 7 and 8 have the highest rate of residents diagnosed with HIV and AIDS¹⁶.

Slightly less than half of those living with HIV are unaware they have the virus.

Persons entering and existing the DC Department of Corrections (DOC) system are offered testing for HIV, and other diseases. If an inmate chooses to be tested strict confidential testing guidelines apply. DOC reports that 3.7% of the inmates tested at DC Jail and CTF are infected with HIV. 1% of those tested when they enter the DOC system learn for the first time that they are infected with HIV.¹⁷ Voluntary HIV/AIDS counseling, treatment, medication, and post-release case management is available to inmates at DC Jail/CTF. Upon release the person will receive a 30-day supply of the prescribed HIV medication they were taking while in jail.

The presence of HIV and/or AIDS in the body is detected by testing antibodies in the immune system. The District has several free HIV testing sites located throughout the city (see table below of locations of free testing sites). Blood, urine, or oral fluid samples are needed. On the spot "Rapid" results are available in 20 minutes at most testing sites. Tests are provided either confidentially or anonymously. Confidential test results are given to the testee verbally. Anonymous tests require the testee to provide a code (2 letters and 7 numbers) by which to identify them self. If the testee tests positive for HIV he must provide personal information before receiving the results. Positive testees are directed to consult with a physician. Positive test results are reported to the local health department and the Center for Disease Control (CDC).

The rate of HIV infection in the body is measured by the number of CD4 or T-cells. HIV infection attacks and weakens the body's white blood cells. Healthy, non-infected adults have a CD4 count of at least 800. The more active the HIV infection the lower the T-cell count. CD4 measurements for HIV infected persons range between 650 and 150. Doctors recommend that persons who have CD4 test of 200 or below receive treatment.

Treatment for HIV infected persons is most commonly administered in the form of oral medication. These medications, called antiretroviral therapy (ART), are available through local medical clinics and hospitals. The DC AIDS Drug Assistance Program (DC ADAP) provides HIV and other related medications for people unable to afford them. To apply for DC ADAP the individual or his representative must complete the four page DC DOH "Application for Health Services" form, which must be signed by a physician or the applicant's case manager certifying that the applicant is HIV positive. The application can be obtained online at www.doh.dc.gov or at any neighborhood health clinic or hospital. Medication is available immediately upon approval. A directory of DC DOH network pharmacies that provide ART medication is available online at www.doh.dc.gov.

PrEP (pre-exposure prophylaxis) is a FDA approved medication (Truvada) lowers the risk of HIV negative individuals from contracting the HIV virus. PrEP must be taken daily, starting at least 28 days before having unprotected sex. PrEP has been shown to reduce the risk of HIV infection in people who are at high risk by up to 92%. Condom use in addition to a daily PrEP regimen, is further advised, as the PrEP does not prevent transmission of other sexually transmitted infections (STI's) (chlamydia, gonorrhea, syphilis) or pregnancy.

PrEP is only available through a doctor's prescription. To receive PrEP, one must first undergo a medical physical exam, to include laboratory tests to identify HIV, STD status and kidney function. Prescriptions are for 90 days and refillable only after a medical physical exam. Most insurances, to include Medicaid will cover 95% of the cost of PrEP. PrEP is available with a prescription at any recognized pharmacy or neighborhood medical clinic.

F. NOTARY SERVICES

Accessing notary services while detained at the DC Jail/ CTF

The Central Detention Facility (CDF) (DC Jail) and the Correctional Treatment Facility (CTF) each have a notary on staff to handle inmate requests for notary services. Some common needs for notary services are:

- Release of property: MPD and DOC require a notarized statement from the inmate before releasing an inmate's personal property to a third-party.
- Power of Attorney: Inmate gives consent to a third-party to act on his behalf in matters related to the inmate's custodial children, finances, (i.e. personal property, tax returns, insurance and real estate transactions).

CDF case managers have a limited number of free blank Power of Attorney forms (free to inmates). Case managers will not assist with filling out the form. If the document is created by an outside source (attorney, family member or friend) arrangements are made with the case manager to get the document to the inmate. Case manager's CDF (202) 673-8500, Fax (202) 698-4877; CTF (202) 698-3000, Fax (202) 698-3301.

When the inmate has the document to be notarized in his possession he should notify the assigned case manager of the need to arrange notary services. The Notary Public will go to inmate's unit to conduct the notary services (no cost). Inmate's wrist band jail identification is ample proof of identification. For further assistance accessing notary needs at either jail, contact VSC (Voices for a Second Chance) (202) 544-2131.

The Public Defender Service (PDS) offers (no cost) notary services for persons who need notarized statements to release personal property held by MPD or DOC to a 3rd party. Persons presented at the DC Superior Court, should inform the PDS eligibility examiner of their need to have a Release of Property document notarized. Released persons should go the PDS, at 633 Indiana Avenue, NW 2nd floor and request Duty Day assistance for notary services.

Notary services are also available at most banks and law firms. The range and cost of services vary, depending on whether the notary is providing forms and witnesses. At minimum expect to pay $10 for notary services by an independent notary.

XV. PARENTING

In the District of Columbia low-income pregnant residents can have prenatal and postnatal costs covered by their respective insurance plan. If the pregnant DC resident does not already have medical insurance she can apply immediately via the online site at www.dchealthlink.com or via her nearest Economic Security Administration site (see Material Assistance Chapter for list of ESA sites) between 8:45am - 4:45pm. ESA examiners screen eligibility for health insurance, food stamps, IDA (Interim Disability Assistance), and TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families). Applicants must provide: Birth certificate, social security card, and proof of DC residency.

Insurance covers doctor visits, emergency care, hospital stays, prenatal care, labor and delivery, family planning, and health education services. In order to continue receiving TANF benefits, the minor is required to participate in educational or training activities and live in the home of a responsible adult or an adult supervised residence.

Unless otherwise noted, participants must pre-register to participate in one of the below described parenting programs.

XVI. LEGAL ASSISTANCE

DC has two primary sources of legal representation for indigent persons charged with a crime. The first, Public Defender Service for DC generally handles the more complex, resource-intensive, and time-consuming criminal and juvenile delinquency matters as well as the majority of DC Parole cases. The second source is a panel of pre-selected attorneys (CJA attorneys) who are appointed pursuant to the District's Criminal Justice Act of (CJA) and represent the remaining cases and case conflicts.

Individuals seeking a civil remedy are not entitled to court-appointed representation. This chapter lists many of the non-profit organizations and law school clinics that provide consultations, resources, and representation to individuals and groups who are in need of civil legal services and unable to pay the cost of an attorney. Clients must meet income guidelines to receive services.

Low and moderate income persons seeking legal assistance for a non-criminal matter can start by using the on-line service called www.lawhelp.org (LawHelp.org is not accessible by telephone or walk-in). LawHelp.org provides basic information about legal rights and makes referrals to local legal aid and public interest law offices that provide free or low cost legal representation. The DC Bar Pro Bono Programs sponsors walk-in legal advice and consultation clinics on selected dates at Bread for the City and Neighborhood Legal Services (see this Chapter).

DC law schools (American, Catholic, Georgetown, George Washington, Howard, and UDC) offer legal clinics that handle a limited number of cases in a variety of specialty areas. Case representation by law school clinics are generally free and handled by second and third-year law students supervised by licensed attorneys. The client may be expected to cover the cost of filings, transcripts and witness expenses. Law school clinics make every effort to schedule the progression of a case during the academic school years (September to May). Accordingly, the chances are better in getting a case accepted for representation by a law school clinic if the application is made in July or early August.

XVII. LESBIAN, GAY, BISEXUAL, TRANSGENDER AND SEXUAL MINORITY SERVICES

Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Questioning (LGBTQ) individuals encounter unique circumstances when interacting with law enforcement and social service organizations. LGBTQ and racial minority communities experience a greater rate of profiling, discrimination, and harassment than other ethnic and social groups¹⁹. Many jurisdictions, to include the DC, have implemented internal police policies and training regarding police interactions with transgender community members²⁰.

Inmates are routinely placed in detention facilities according to their biological gender. DC Department of Corrections (DOC) will consider a request from a LGBTQ inmate to be placed in a housing unit consistent with their gender identification (see Gender Classification and Housing of DOC Inmates) (see next page). Bureau of Prisons (BOP) inmates are housed according to their present genitalia. Special accommodations are made only if the LGBTQ individual demonstrates danger to self or others.

LGBT common identity descriptions
L	Lesbian	Women primarily attracted to women
G	Gay	Men primarily attracted to men Sometimes referenced to as people attracted persons of the same sex.
B	Bisexual	Individuals attracted to persons of both their own or opposite sex
T	Transgender	Person whose gender identity differs from their assigned gender at birth
T	Transsexual	Term for persons who have permanently changed their gender identity through surgery and hormones
Q	Queer	Umbrella term classifying persons associated in the LGBTQ communities
Q	Questioning	Process of exploring or discovering one's own sexual, gender or gender expression
I	Intersex	Person whose sexual anatomy or chromosomes do not fit traditional markers of female or male
A	Asexual	Persons who does not feel a sexual attraction to any group of people
P	Pansexual	Person sexually attracted to members or all gender identities and expressions

 Definitions provided by SMYAL www.smyal.org

It is important to refer LGBTQ individuals by the pronoun (he, she, him, his, her, hers, them, they, and theirs) that they identify, unless the individual expresses a name or term otherwise. Using the preferred pronoun demonstrates respect for the individual's gender identity choice. If you are not certain which pronoun to refer an individual - Ask!

19. Discrimination and harassment by law enforcement officers in the LGTB community: the Williams Institute, March 2015 report by Mallory, Hasenbush, and Sears.
20. MPD General Order 501.02: Handling Interactions with Transgender Individuals (2007)

The District of Columbia²¹ along with a growing number of other states and municipalities have adopted human rights laws that require employers, housing providers, public accommodations, and educational institutions to provide services to transgender individuals in a manner consistent with their identity or expression, rather than according to their presumed or assigned sex or gender.

Gender Reassignment: An individual who is biologically one gender and lives the life of another gender can have gender identity reassigned even if that individual has not been altered physically. To apply for change of gender designation the applicant must submit a completed "Gender Designation Form" on-line or at any DMV location. The form requires a statement from a physician, licensed therapist or counselor, case worker or social worker who can certify that the applicant has been, is currently, and will continue in the unforeseeable future to live as the gender for which s/he is applying. The cost of the new identification card is $7. A changed ID card can help avoid problems when trying to access programs such as public accommodations (shelter, restrooms etc.)

Note: The above process will not change the name on the ID card. To change the name on a DMV, Social Security Card, or Passport, the individual must first complete the Change of Name procedure at the DC Superior Court.

Change of Name: File for change of name with the Judge-in-Chambers, H. Carl Moultrie I, Courthouse, 500 Indiana Avenue, NW, and Room 4220. (202) 879-1579, Fax (202) 879-1579. The application process takes approximately two months.

Birth Certificate Gender Redesignation: The JaParker Deoni Jones Birth Certificate Equality Amendment Act of 2013 allows individuals who have undergone a gender transition procedure (surgical, hormonal, or other appropriate treatment) may request a new birth certificate to reflect their changed gender. With supporting documentation of the transition (from licensed healthcare provider, see: Gender Reassignment above) application for new birth certificate is made at: Vital Records Division, 899 North Capitol Street, NW, First Floor, 20002 (202) 442-9009. Cost for a reassigned birth certificate is $23 plus $28 to amend the birth certificate (total cost $51). The old birth certificate is thereafter sealed from public review.

Same-sex marriage: Same sex couples can legally marry in DC whether residents of DC or other jurisdiction²². Partners apply at DC Superior Court Marriage Bureau, H. Carl Moultrie I, Courthouse, 500 Indiana Ave, NW, #4485, (Mon-Fri 8am to 5pm) with proof of ID (driver's license or government issued non-driver's ID, birth certificate, or passport). Cost: $35 marriage application fee, and $10. for copy of the marriage certificate. If couple already registered as domestic partners in DC, $35. license fee waived.

Gender Classification and Housing of DOC Inmates: Transgender, transsexual, inter-sex, and gender variant persons incarcerated by DC Department of Corrections (DOC) may request placement in a jail housing unit not in accord with their genitalia. DOC Transgender Committee (TC) (medical practitioner, mental health clinician, DOC supervisor, volunteer member of the transgender community) will: Review documents and information that identifies inmate as transgender or intersex, interview inmate, and assess inmate’s vulnerability to victimization if housed in general population. The Committee assessment of where inmate should be housed is based on: Inmate’s assessment of vulnerability, safety and security of inmate and staff, housing availability, gender identity and genitalia. TC can recommend inmate be housed: In general population, in protective custody, or in a unit consistent with gender identity, appearance, and overt expression that differs from their birth sex or genitalia.

21. Title 4, DCMR, Chapter 8 "Compliance Rules and Regulations Regarding Gender Identity of Expression."

22. DC does not have a residency requirement to marry.

B. FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQ'S)

Q: I was born male. I now identify as female. If I go to jail, will I be treated as a male or a female?

Answer: In DC, if you request to be housed in a gender housing unit other than your birth sex or genitalia, your request will be reviewed by a special appointed Transgender Committee. The Committee will evaluate your request, weigh your concerns against the jail's interest to provide a safe and secure environment, then make a determination which gender unit you should be housed.

In BOP, state or private prisons (Rivers CI), you will be housed at a facility according to the biological gender in which you arrive.

Q: I am a transgendered female. CSOSA supervises all women in a designated unit that specifically addresses concerns of women. Will my probation or parole supervision be supervised through the women's unit?

Answer: No, CSOSA will assign you to a supervision unit consistent with your birth sex and genitalia.

Q: I am a transgendered female, will the jail permit me to shave daily?

Answer: DOC does not provide razors or other mechanical shaving supplies for inmates to shave themselves. A shaving powder is available through the jail's commissary for inmates who desire to shave daily. Inmates may also receive a weekly shave by designed jail barbers.

Q: My school age child is gay. I fear that he will be harassed and bullied if he attends our neighborhood public school, Does DC have a school especially LGBT students?

Answer: No, DCPS does not have a special school for LGBT kids. Federal, District law and DCPS policy prohibits harassment, discrimination and bullying. Each school has a designated staff person trained to address the concerns of students, and/or parents who feel or fear a student is being harassed or bullied.

XVIII. IMMIGRATION

The current administration has declared that anyone living illegally in the USA is subject to arrest and deportation.

Non-citizens charged with crimes may be subject to possible deportation to their country of origin as a result of certain criminal convictions or, in some cases, even dismissed criminal charges. While immigration law is very complex and requires a case by case analysis, some general categories of criminal convictions for which non-citizens may be subject to deportation include: 1) aggravated felonies as defined in the Immigration and Nationality Act, such as murder, rape, and crimes of violence; 2) crimes involving moral turpitude; 3) controlled substances offenses; 4) domestic violence offenses; and 5) firearms offenses, among others.

Non-citizens are individuals not born in the United States and did not otherwise apply for and obtain naturalization. Non-citizens may fall into one of the below categories:

Lawful Permanent Resident (LPR)	Individual may obtain LPR status through certain qualifying family relationships, certain types of employment, after a grant of asylee or refugee status, or through other humanitarian programs such as the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA), U and T Visa programs, or Special Immigrant Juvenile Status. An LPR is also referred to as a "green card holder."
Non-immigrant Visa Holder	Individual who receives a visa to travel to the U.S. who intends to remain in the U.S. for a temporary period of time for a specific purpose, e.g. tourists, students, temporary workers, and religious workers. Those who violate the terms of the temporary visa or who overstay their visa are considered "out of status."
Asylee	Individual who enters the U.S. escaping persecution and hardship in their native country, who either requests asylum at the U.S. border or applies for asylum within one year of entering the U.S., and who is granted the same either by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services or an immigration judge.
Refugee	Individual who is deemed to have met the definition of "asylee" abroad after processing through an overseas refugee processing station enters the U.S. as a refugee.
Temporary Protected Status (TPS)	Temporary status delegated by the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security which grants temporary relief from deportation in the form of a work permit to persons fleeing civil strife and other disasters. TPS is a country-specific designation. TPS must be applied for within narrow windows designated by the government and renewed periodically.
Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS)	Juveniles who are under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, who have been deemed abandoned, abused or neglected by one or both parents, and for whom it is deemed not to be in their best interest to return to their country of origin.
U, T, or S Visa Recipient	Individual who has proven they are either victim or witness to a crime, have cooperated with or assisted law enforcement in the prosecution of that crime, and generally met other requirements. They are eligible to apply for LPR status after a certain period.
Undocumented	Individual who entered U.S. without notice or inspection. Most individuals who enter the U.S. in this manner cross the southern border.

Undocumented and Unaccompanied Youth:

The number of undocumented, unaccompanied children (under age 18 yrs) attempting to enter without inspection through the southern border of the United States has increased by 117% since 2012²⁴. U.S. Dept of Homeland Security estimates that each year about half, or 39,000 minors are

23. VTC not available at Maryland detention centers.

24. 2014 Pew Research Center analysis on U.S. Customs and Border Protection, Enforcement Integration Data apprehended at the border and held for immigration proceedings. Minors from countries other than Mexico, cannot be deported immediately and must be given a court hearing before being deported²⁵. Mexican minors caught crossing the border are returned to Mexico, unless the minor can persuade the Border Patrol agent that they are in jeopardy of being persecuted or trafficked, if returned. If the minor can't pass the interview, they are immediately returned to Mexico.

Apprehended children, most of whom are from Central America and some Mexican children who pass the credible fear interview process are detained in secure shelters for minors. These shelters are pre-approved non-profits that are contracted by the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR), with oversight from Health and Human Services. Minors are provided health screenings, immunizations, food, clothing and other necessities. Minors are also assessed for mental health issues, substance use/abuse problems and gang membership. Length of stay at the shelter ranges from a few days to a year. Most minors are thereafter placed with a "sponsor²⁶" family member, guardian or caretaker in the United States, where they remain during the immigration process until they are granted adjusted of status or are returned to their homeland. Minors are strongly encouraged to have an attorney represent them in immigration proceedings.

Deportation Proceedings

Individuals who enter the U.S. lawfully may be placed in deportation proceedings if they trigger grounds of deportability, such as certain criminal convictions. Individuals who either entered the U.S. without status or whose temporary status has lapsed are deportable. If those individuals acquire certain convictions, that may raise the likelihood that they will be placed in deportation proceedings depending on the priorities for deportation implemented by the government.

Eligibility for Relief from Deportation

Once in deportation proceedings, individuals can apply for relief from deportation depending on their particular criminal history and circumstance. Some forms of relief from deportation include: adjusting status to LPR through a U.S. citizen or LPR relative; requesting asylum due to a fear of persecution if returned to your home country; cancellation of removal for certain long-time residents; and eligibility for other humanitarian relief such as a U or T visa.

Individuals seeking relief from deportation must generally prove that they do not trigger inadmissibility grounds, which include distinct criminal grounds. In some circumstances, there are waivers available for grounds of inadmissibility depending on the relief sought. Most forms of relief from removal are discretionary, and allow immigration authorities to consider even dismissed criminal charges in determining whether the individual merits a favorable exercise of discretion and grant of relief.

26. Sponsors must pass a background check, agree to ensure the child's presence at all future immigration proceedings, and ensure minor's presence at ICE hearings.

Note: DECREE No. 717

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF THE REPUBLIC OF EL SALVADOR

The Republic of El Salvador recently passed law (Decree No. 717) requiring returning El Salvadoran deportees to be interviewed by National Civil Police (PNC)²⁷ to accredit whether the deportee is/was a member or collaborator of a gang. Information about the deportee's gang involvement is included with the immigration transfer papers²⁸ from the sending country.

ICE collects the information about a deportee's gang history from a variety of official, unofficial and unverified sources. (There is no process in place to challenge the accuracy of the information.)

If gang involvement is determined, the deportee will be subject to special monitoring provisions, while residing El Salvador. The monitoring conditions can require: registration in the gang member database, electronic monitoring, photograph of tattoos, requirement to work, regular reporting to a PNC official, and stay away order from certain persons and areas

So what does Decree 717 mean:

- Returning El Salvadoran citizens can be subjected to punishment even if they are not convicted of a crime.
- Returning El Salvadoran deportees can be labeled as gang members based on unreliable, unverified information; with no method to appeal the determination.
- Deportee's movement and activities will be monitored by The National Civil Police (NCP) while residing in El Salvador.
- Non-deportees associated with a gang labeled deportee can also be subjected to monitoring by PNC.

No Automatic Right to Counsel in Deportation Proceedings

While individuals in deportation proceedings are permitted to have an attorney represent them, generally that individual must either obtain pro bono counsel, representation by a non-profit organization, or pay for a private attorney to represent them. If they are unable to do so, they are not provided with an attorney at the expense of the government as is the case in the criminal justice system.

Juvenile Adjudications and Special Relief for Juveniles

Juvenile adjudications are not considered convictions under the immigration law. However, a juvenile adjudication may trigger other non-conviction grounds of inadmissibility, such as those involving drug abuse or addiction, drug trafficking, or prostitution related grounds. Additionally, a juvenile adjudication may be considered by immigration authorities as a negative discretionary factor when a petitioner is seeking a discretionary form of relief.

Immigration Relief Available to Youth

There are several special forms of relief from deportation currently available to youth, such as Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS) and the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program. Undocumented immigrant youth may also be eligible for relief under the U visa program for victims of crimes, the T visa program for victims of human trafficking, or for asylum relief, among others. Note that individuals who believe that they are eligible for the benefits described below, or any other immigration benefit, should consult with an attorney before proceeding with the application process. See a list of local non-profit immigration services organizations at the end of this Section.

27. PNC, The Policía Nacional Civil is the national police of El Salvador.

28. Alien Registration File (A-file). File compiled by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) providing detailed information about the deportee.

Special Immigrant Juvenile Status

Undocumented youth who are under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court or in state-supported foster care may petition the court for a finding that they meet the definition of a "Special Immigrant Juvenile." To be eligible for Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS), the juvenile must:

1. Be present in the U.S.
2. Be under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court or in state-supported foster care, with the state court order in effect on the date of filing the SIJS petition
3. Be under the age of 21 when the SIJS petition is filed
4. Demonstrate that he cannot be reunited with one or both parents due to abuse, neglect, abandonment or a similar reason under state law, and
5. Demonstrate that it is not in the juvenile's interest to return to his or her home country or last country of residence.

Once the above qualifications are demonstrated to their satisfaction of the juvenile judge, the judge can sign an order establishing SIJS eligibility. The juvenile can then petition U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services for SIJS status. Once the petition for SIJS is approved, the applicant is immediately eligible to be considered for adjustment of status to lawful permanent residency (LPR) status. The adjustment of status process is discretionary. Therefore, while a juvenile adjudication is not technically a conviction, it can be considered by the adjudicator in determining whether to grant the petitioner LPR status. Note that if the SIJS applicant is granted LPR status, they cannot later petition for the parent that they alleged abandoned, neglected or abused them.

Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals

The Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program was established under the Obama administration as a form of discretionary relief from deportation. A person may be eligible for DACA if they:

1. Arrived in the U.S. before the age of 16
2. Entered the U.S. on or before June 15, 2007
3. Were physically present in the U.S. on June 15, 2012
4. Were under the age of 31 on June 15, 2012
5. Are physically present in the U.S. when apply for DACA
6. Entered without inspection or status expired as of June 15, 2007
7. Are currently enrolled in school, graduated from high school or obtained a GED, admitted to an institution of higher learning, or received an honorable discharge from the armed services, and
8. Have no convictions for a felony offense, a "significant misdemeanor" offense, or multiple misdemeanors, and not otherwise a threat to national security and public safety.

An individual who is approved for DACA is granted work permit and a 2 year period of "deferred action." There is no pathway to long-term status under DACA. Given that DACA is an administrative and not statutory remedy, the program may terminate with the Obama presidency.

Immigration Consequences of Conviction

The Supreme Court in Padilla v. Kentucky required that criminal defense attorneys advise their non-citizen clients about the possible immigration consequences of conviction. If a non-citizen fails to receive that advice or receives inaccurate advice, they may be able to assert post-conviction relief alleging that they did not receive effective assistance of counsel. The standard for the level of advice required varies by jurisdiction.

Referral Resources

PDS has an in-house immigration attorney that advises PDS non-citizen clients regarding the potential consequences of conviction in criminal matters. However, PDS does not take on immigration cases directly. The following is a list of local non-profit immigration service organizations which may be able to assist non-citizens in applying for immigration benefits or relief from removal:

XXI. VOLUNTEER /RESTITUTION PLACEMENTS

The following is a list of organizations and programs that accept volunteers to aid with their respective mission. The list is by no means exhaustive. The Washington metropolitan area offers hundreds of volunteer opportunities for persons and groups looking to offer their services.

Volunteer opportunities are also available at most not-for-profit organizations, to include churches, school, and government agencies. Organizations expect volunteers to be drug and alcohol free, trustworthy, and able to conduct themselves in a cordial and friendly manner. Some organizations require that volunteers fulfill set hours of training before engaging with the work of the agency.

Serve DC is the DC Government agency that connects residents with organizations in need of volunteer support. To sign up visit: www.serve.dc.gov/service/neighborhood to learn about volunteer opportunities and to sign up for a service day or special event where volunteers are needed.

Organizations appreciate volunteers who demonstrate a dedication and commitment to fulfilling the mission of the organization. Being court ordered to perform community service is not necessarily a bar to volunteering. Volunteering should be viewed as a learning experience and an opportunity to help and not only as an extension of punishment. Volunteers should maintain a daily log of their activities with the organization even if the referring agency does not require a log. Activity logs should include: Date of service, hours and location of service, activity performed, supervisors name and signature.
